Blessed By An Angel

Heidi's Hope For Homeless Animals has been blessed by an Anonymous Angel who has made monthly donations to support our animal charity and lifesaving work for well over a year. Through her generous giving, she has helped Heidi's Hope bring a second chance to those animals that no one wants and to animal owners who have fallen on hard times and think they can't afford to keep their pets.

Heidi's Hope for Homeless Animals is run solely by volunteers, and all donations go directly to helping pets in desperate need. With no local or state funding, our charity relies on our donors, sponsors and volunteers to support the ongoing mission of Heidi's Hope.

A few of our many goals are to keep animals with their owners who fall on hard times, provide rescue resources during natural disasters when owner resources are stressed, and to provide support for our local shelters to keep pets with their families.

A very big Thank You to our Anonymous Angel who has generously helped Heidi's Hope For Homeless Animals save the lives of countless animals and feed hungry dogs and cats in desperate need—your graciousness and generosity have truly brought hope to the hopeless!

Cooper's Corner A Message from Our CCO, Chief Canine Officer

In puppy mills, dogs live in small, cramped cages, females are bred constantly, and most of the dogs are deprived of love and medical care. Many of these dogs never experience life outside their cages. Tragically North Carolina has no clear laws to protect dogs like these, despite the relentless efforts of many animal advocacy groups nationwide.

While other states are banning puppy mills, these breeders flock to North Carolina since we have no laws to protect these innocent animals. Life for the mother and father dog of puppy mills are some of the most inhumane conditions---all to produce "designer" dogs. Meanwhile, last year approximately, 355,000 dogs and cats were killed in

Thinking of Buying a Puppy for Christmas?

Many families are considering getting a puppy for Christmas and turn to a breeder to get a “designer” dog. However, when you buy a puppy from a pet store or on the internet, you’re most likely supporting a puppy mill, which is a “factory farm” for dogs.

shelters, simply because they didn’t have a safe place to call home. For all of my fellow dogs and cats in shelters, I hope and pray that people will turn away from supporting inhumane conditions of puppy mills and instead save lives by adopting their next pet. Rescued does not mean broken, it means they have been let down by humans. You may not be able to change his/her past, but you can change their future. And they’re counting on us to save their lives.
